Dear Sisters & Brothers:

FIELD REPRESENTATIVE
JAMES PETRILLO

In response to questions about the rapidly changing conditions regarding the Coronavirus (Covid-19) outbreak, I am writing to let you know that your Local Union Office will continue to operate to serve the needs of the membership.

As this situation is subject to change based upon State and Federal orders, we encourage you to call the Local Union office or your Business Agent/Field Representative prior to going to the Local Union Office. For those members that wish to conduct credit union business, we encourage you to take advantage of the Shared Branching program, however, the Local Union office will continue to be available, subject to State and Federal mandates.

Your Business Agents and Field Representatives will continue to be available to you for any and all of your representational needs. Your representatives will continue to be on hand at your locations as they normally are, and they will continue to be available to you via electronic mail and telephone. We will also continue to address workplace and contract issues, grievances and all membership issues.

As both the State and Federal governments mandate changes, we are monitoring any changes to your working conditions and continue to be available for those members that are working during this crisis, as well as those members that have been impacted by shutdowns and closures mandated by the Government.
